

An audience with Florence Nightingale

Conducted like a 'Parkinson chat-show', we invoke Florence Nightingale from the pages of history to talk about her experiences, her attitudes to nursing and to life in general.

There is a lot more to the Lady with the Lamp than just the Lamp, and this 45-minute presentation pulls no punches. In a word, she was formidable, and you, the audience, can decide who takes charge of the interview!

Presented by professional, costumed actors, with slide support.

Presented free-of-charge, with a bucket collection afterwards for voluntary donations. Proceeds go to the Nursing Memorial Appeal, who provide financial assistance for today's nursing students with an interest in conflict & humanitarian nursing.
